

Textile Engineer (Confection) – Immediate Role

We are looking for a dynamic person with initiative, good organizational and interpersonal skills to work in a demanding environment. We are seeking candidates with a university degree and fluency in English, and ideally in one of the following languages: French and/or German.

Professional experience in supporting CEO's (Chief Executive Officer) in industrial groups and/or in an international environment will be considered an advantage.

You must demonstrate good oral and written communication skills, be capable of working under pressure and efficiently manage priorities and multiple tasks. You consider the computer as a personal productivity instrument and you are proficient in Word, PowerPoint, Excel and Internet use.

This is a position to be filled in our office in Porto, and you will have the opportunity to build a challenging career in a motivating team and environment.

To apply please send your CV to joao.maia@s-iberica.com